

Help Crib Sheet 6

Results page features

The search Results page enables you to work in several ways with the set of results generated by a search on FSTA Direct:

1. Edit and re-run the search again without leaving the page
2. Order, filter, and narrow the results set
3. Navigate, print, export, select, and change the view of the records
4. Combine and save searches using the My FSTA searches panel
5. Link to full text resources, submit document requests, search the web, or prepare simple More like this searches

1 Edit and re-run searches

Results ?

For search KW = 'functional food'
Your search returned no records

Customize KW = 'functional food' Search

It is easy to edit and correct typos and other errors in the Customize box in the Search Results panel; click on the Search button to re-run the search after making the correction or adjustment.

2 Order, filter, and narrow the results set

Narrow

- Change the order in which search results are presented by clicking on the drop-down menu in the left hand column and selecting the desired sort key - most recent first, by author, or by source.
- To filter results click on the 2-letter code for keyword (KW), publication year (PY), source (SO), document type (DT), or all authors (AL)
- Most frequent or most recent records by the selected attribute are listed
- Click on a name or item in the list to see those records in the current results set with that attribute
- Narrow your search simply by typing search terms in the box and clicking on Narrow - a free text search on All Fields is run and added to the current search, thereby creating a 'search within a search'

5 Link to full text and other resources

At the end of each record a series of buttons link to full text or to other resources or functionality. Not all buttons are shown at the same time, and the display of some buttons is according to account settings (available to Local Administrators).

- Search Google, Google Scholar or Yahoo with words taken from the title of the source article

- Opens a new window in which a new FSTA Direct search can be run by selecting from authors, source, and keywords in the current record

- Links to the full text of a journal article using the article's DOI (digital object identifier). These articles are hosted at the publisher's web site where access may be by subscription, pay per view, or free. If the journal operates an Open Access or free policy we show a green button

- Links to the free full text of the patent at esp@cenet

- Links to your library's automated access system and local holdings of journals

- Opens a form to request an estimate from IFIS for delivery of the source document

- Opens a form to send to your local librarian requesting the source article
